

October 1

8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

The Music City Center
201 5th Ave S.
Nashville, TN

In-Person Event

Five Steps for Structuring Data-Informed Conversations and Action in Education

How can educators hold productive conversations about survey results and other kinds of data?

How can data-informed conversations lead to strategic decisionmaking and action?

Learn about:

- Practical strategies for holding conversations about data.
- How to examine data and understand findings.
- Steps, sample questions, and resources for using data more systematically and rigorously in education decisionmaking.
- REL Pacific's report, Five Steps for Structuring Data-Informed Conversations and Action in Education.

Presenters:

- Shannon Black, Director of Talent Management, Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools
- Christopher Causey, Ed.D., Supervisor of Accountability, Robertson County Board of Education, Tennessee
- Margie Johnson, Business Intelligence Coordinator, Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools
- Shelby Maier, Ph.D., Systems Transformation Researcher, REL Pacific
- Mary Laurens Seely, Data Coach Coordinator, Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools
- Vicki Smith, Ed.D., Regional Data Analyst, Mid-Cumberland CORE, Tennessee Department of Education

REGISTER NOW